

Abstract of the Disclosure

When a specific point and images of information associated therewith, which are retrievable via a communication line such as the Internet are displayed, character data extracting means extracts character string data of time information or charge information from among images. Route searching means searches for routes based on conditions set in position information on the specific point, and in time information or charge information extracted by the character data extracting means.